

SVS BROWN SHIPLEY BALANCED FUND

Factsheet to 28 February 2026

Fund Objective

The Fund aims to achieve growth through a combination of capital and income over the medium term (at least five years). The Fund will invest, directly and indirectly, in a mixture of shares and fixed interest securities (being sovereign, investment grade and non-investment grade bonds). The allocation between the shares and fixed interest securities in which the Fund invests will be actively managed and will vary in response to short term market conditions. However, the Fund operates a balanced strategy, maintaining a balance between shares and fixed interest securities, with the allocation to shares remaining within a 40% to 85% range. The Fund excludes issuers that derive more than 10% of revenue from thermal coal extraction or power generation, those that are involved in controversial weapons, issuers subject to EU arms embargoes and those that are deemed in violation of the UN Global Compact principles for over 3 years. In addition, the Fund integrates environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors in its investment process.

Commentary

February was a positive month for the majority of asset classes. Equity and fixed income markets ended the month largely ahead although it was another month that saw US equity markets lagging peers. US stocks finished marginally down as volatility remained elevated in technology stocks, impacting overall returns in the region. Consequently, 'growth' style investments struggled compared to 'value' investments with this reflected in good performances from UK and European equities. Further afield, Japanese equities had a strong month after markets reacted positively to elections in the region.

Fixed Income markets also saw mostly positive returns with UK gilts leading the way following a dovish monetary policy committee meeting. US Treasuries were also well supported on the back of hopes for more interest rate cuts in the region. There were also positive returns from Emerging Market debt as well as from global corporate bonds. Riskier high yield debt just managed to finish with a small gain despite spread widening.

Finally, commodity markets also saw gains as gold continued to rise with oil also positive over the month.

Looking at the portfolio, the fund remains well diversified given the geopolitical backdrop. We maintain a moderate preference for equities over bonds. Relative to our long-term allocation, we stay diversified and slightly underweight the US (which remains our biggest absolute exposure) to finance the overweight in the UK (a 'defensive' equity market) and the attractively-valued Emerging Market region.

The commodity exposure in the portfolio adds a further layer of diversification in the fund.

Investment Risks - This fund predominately gains exposure to a combination of income and capital growth assets through investment in other investment funds whose individual risk profile may not match that of the Balanced fund, while exposure to UK markets is generally through direct equity holdings. Global currency fluctuations contribute to fluctuations in the value of the investment. Investment Trusts, Sovereign Bonds and Structured Products do not represent significant holdings but where used carry specific investment risks; with structured products there is a risk of insolvency of the underlying issuer, while Investment Trusts may borrow to invest and, where borrowing is used, the gains or losses in those underlying investments are exaggerated. The value of bonds are affected by relative movements in interest rates. Please refer to the Key Investor Information Document and the fund prospectus for further fund information.
